

IGA – Nunatsiavut Music Project

Second Annual

Tittulautet Nunatsiavuttini Nunatsiavut Brass Band Workshop

Nain, Nunatsiavut (Labrador)

July 7-11, 2014

Open to Nunatsiavut beneficiaries from ages 12 to 80 interested in joining community brass bands or to develop their musical skills. If you're a current or former brass band member, someone who participated in last year's workshop, or with no experience at all, you are welcome to apply.

Workshop activities will include

- Group instruction on the basics of playing brass instruments – no experience necessary
- Daily practices of the music from the Labrador Moravian brass band tradition
- Classes on music reading
- Daily choir sessions
- Special sessions on how to organize a brass band, how to maintain instruments
- Recreational activities
- A performance in the host community at workshop's end

Last year's facilitators, Terry Howlett, Stephen Ivany and Mark Turner, will be returning to lead the workshop again this year.

The workshop can accommodate 25 participants. Places will be held for up to a minimum of 5 participants from each community that currently has a band (Nain, Hopedale and Makkovik. Participants from other communities are also welcome. Transportation costs from Nunatsiavut communities and Upper Lake Melville, as well as an accommodation allowance of $70 per person per day will be provided for all participants traveling from outside Nain. Assistance in locating accommodation in Nain can be provided.
